Vacancy: Field Guide at Singita Kruger National Park

As a guide working at Singita Kruger National Park you have the opportunity to work in a unique and truly magical wilderness area. The concession is part of the Kruger National Park, however Singita has exclusive use of this particular concession. Field Guides are continually challenged and the possibilities in terms of guest delight and customising your guests' experience are endless.

PURPOSE

The field guides are fully responsible for conducting guided safari experiences at Singita that are unique, personalised, professional and enjoyable, and are accountable to the Head Guide for the delivery of such experiences to the guests.

The main purpose of the field guide is to ensure that an all-encompassing wildlife experience is offered to every guest with the focus being to cater to the specific needs of each individual guest. The entire experience should be delivered with humility, professionalism and flexibility, with the end result being an educational experience for all. The guiding service should be delivered with an uncompromising sensitivity towards the environment.

REQUIREMENTS

Field Guides form a unique relationship with their guests in that they spend much of their time on safari together. It is key that candidates are able to read different people and cater to individual needs, always working to outdo guests' expectations.

A minimum of 2 years work experience as a field guide in a similar lodge environment is essential, and a level 2 FGASA qualification. A higher FGASA qualification is of course advantageous.

A Field Guide at Singita Kruger National Park will need to pass their Kruger National Park rifle assessment as well as the trails examination in order to be able to conduct walks with guests in this pristine wilderness area based on the border of Mozambique.

Candidates must have an inherent passion for observing, sharing and learning about wildlife and the flora and fauna in areas such as this. Candidates must also be confident to work on their own and with a tracker – as a strong unit. Although you must be a confident person if applying for this position, it is also crucial to be humble, genuine and eager to continually learn new things.

To apply for this position please email your CV and covering letter to jobs@singita.com
Please be sure to quote the job title in the subject line.
